THE PASTOR'S APPEAL.

[Not long since, says the Editor of the Ladies' Repository, we were seated outside of a circle of good though erring Christian men, who were discussing in a criticising, not to say carping state of mind, the merits, or rather, demerits, of their pastor and preacher. Thence they advanced to the failings of ministers generally. Is not this a fault in which Christian men too often and too recklessly indulge? The incident recalled to our mind "The Pastor's Appeal," by the author of Herbert Atherton. Here it is. We commend it to all Christians:]

Ye who have sat for weary years
And criticised my voice and tone,
And sorrowed that the word of God
By hands so feeble should be sown;
My Christian friends, a suppliant
Your pastor comes to you, this day,
And asks you, in the name of Christ,
For his immortal soul to pray.
Tempted without and weak within,
Storm-toss'd and tempest-driven,
I struggle, 'mid wild waves of sin.
To point to you the shores of heaven.
The very office that I bear
Attracts the wily tempter's eyes,
For where there floats a leader's plume,
There quick the foeman's arrow flies.
Although of all my own dark sins
I cannot tell the vast amount,
For souls committed to my charge
I shall be called to give account.
Oh, Christian friends, will ye not heed
The solemn words I speak, this day,
And for a blessing in Christ's name
Upon your pastor, humbly pray?

VALLEY FORGE.

A LEGEND OF THE REVOLUTION.

BY GEORGE LIPPARD.

Hidden away there in a deep glen, not many miles from Valley Forge, a quaint old farm house rose darkly over a wide waste of snow.

It was a cold, dark winter, and the snow began to fall—while from the broad fireplace of the old farm house, the cheerful blaze of massive logs flashed around a wide and spacious room.

Two persons sat by that fire, a father and child. The father, who sits yonder, with a soldier's belt thrown over his farmer's dress, is a man of some fifty years, his eyes bloodshot, his hair changed to an untimely gray, his face wrinkled and hollowed by care, and by dissipation more than care.

And the daughter who sits in the full light of the blaze opposite her father—a slenderly formed girl of some seventeen years, clad in the coarse linsey skirt and kerchief, which made up the costume of a farmer's daughter, in the days of the Revlution.

She is not beautiful; ah no!

Care, perhaps that disease, consumption, which makes the heart grow cold to name, has been busy with that young face, sharpened in its outlines, and stamped with a deathly paleness.

There is no bloom on that young cheek. The brown hair is laid plainly aside from her pale brow. Then tell me what it is you see when you gaze in her face?

You look at that young girl, and see nothing but the gleam of two large dark eyes, that burn into your soul.

Yes, those eyes are unnaturally large, and dark and bright; perhaps consumption is feeding them.

And now then as the father sits there so moody and sullen, or the daughter sits there so sad and silent and pale, tell me, I pray you, the story of their lives.

That man, Jacob Manheim, was a peaceful, happy man before the Revolution.—Since the war he has become drunken and idle; driven his wife broken-hearted to the grave; and worse than all, joined a band of tory refugees, who scoured the land at dead of night, burning and murdering as they go.

To-night at the hour of two, this tory band will lie in wait in a neighboring pass, to attack and murder the rebel Washington, whose starving soldiers are yonder in the huts of Valley Forge.

Washington, on his lonely journeys, is wont to pass this farm house; the cutthroats are there in the next chamber, drinking and feasting, as they wait for two o'clock at night.

And the daughter Mary—for her name was Mary; they loved that name in the good old times—what is the story of her brief young life?

She had been reared by her mother, now dead and gone home, to revere this man Washington, who to-night will be attacked and murdered; to revere him next to God. Nay, more; that mother, on her death-bed, joined the hands of a young partizan leader, Harry Williams, who now shares the crust and the cold at Valley Forge.

Well may that maiden's eye flash with unnatural brightness, well may her pale face gather a single burning flush in the centre of each cheek.

For yesterday afternoon, she went four miles over roads of ice and snow, to tell Capt. Williams the plot of the refugees. She did not reach Valley Forge until Washington had left on one of his lonely journeys; so this night at twelve the partizan captain will occupy the rocks above the neighboring pass, to trap the trappers of George Washington.

Yes, that pale slender girl, remembering the words of her dying mother, had broken through her obedience to her father, after a long and bitter struggle. How dark that struggle in a faithful daughter's heart! She had betrayed his plot to his enemies, stipulating first for the life, and safety of her traitor father.

And now, as father and child are sitting there, the shouts of the tory refugees echo from the next chamber; as the hand of the old clock is on the hour of eleven; hark, there is a sound of horses' hoofs without the farm house; there is a pause; the door opens; a tall stranger wrapped in a thick cloak white as snow, enters, advances to the fire, and in brief words solicits some refreshments and an hour's repose.

Why does the tory Manheim start aghast at the sight of the stranger's blue and gold uniform. Then mumbling something to his daughter about getting some food for the traveller, rushes wildly into the next room where his brother tories were feasting. Tell me, why does that young girl stand trembling before the tall stranger, veiling her eyes from that calm face, with its blue eyes and kindly smile?

Ah, if we may believe the legends of that time, few men, few warriors, who dared the terrors of battle with a smile, could stand unabashed before the solemn presence of Washington.

For it was Washington, exhausted with a long journey; his limbs stiffened and his face numbed with cold; it was the great rebel of Valley Forge, who, returning to the camp sooner than his usual hour, was forced by the storm to take refuge in the farmer's house, and claim a little food and an hour's repose at his hands.

In a few moments, behold the stranger with his cloak thrown off, sitting at that oaken table, partaking of the food spread out there by the hands of the girl who now stands trembling at his side.

And look! Her hand is extended as if to grasp him by the arm; her lips move as if to warm him of his danger, but make no sound. Why all this silent agony for the man who sits so calmly there?

One moment ago, as the girl in preparing the hasty supper, opened yonder closet, adjoining the next room, she heard the low whispers of her father and the tories; she heard the dice-box rattle, as they were casting lots who should stab Washington in his sleep.

And now the words, "Beware, on this night you die!" tremble, half-formed upon her lips, when her father comes hastily from the room and hushes her with a look.

"Show the gentleman to his chamber, Mary;" (how calmly polite a murderer can be) "that chamber at the head of the stairs, on the left. On the left, you mind."

Mary takes the light, trembling and pale. She leads the soldier up the oaken stairs The stand on the landing, in this wing of the farm house, composed of two rooms divided by thick walls from the main body of the mansion. On one side, the right, is the door of Mary's chamber, on the other, the left, the chamber of the soldier, to him a chamber of death.

For a moment Mary stands there trembling and confused. Washington gazes upon that pale girl with a look of surprise. Look! She is about to warn him of his danger, when, see there! her father's rough face appears above the head of the stairs.

"Mary, show the gentleman into that chamber on the left. And look ye, girl, it's late: you'd better go into your own room and go to sleep."

While the tory watches them from the head of the stairs, Washington enters the chamber on the left, Mary the one on the right.

An hour passes. Still the storm beats on the roof; still the snow drifts on the hills. Before the fire, in the dim old hall of that farm house, are seven half-drunken men, with that tall tory, Jacob Manheim, sitting in their midst; the murderer's knife in his hands. For the lot had fallen on him. He is to go up stairs and stab the sleeping man.

Even this half-drunken murderer is pale at the thought; how the knife trembles in his hand; trembles against the pistol-barrel. The jeers of his comrades rouse him to the work; the light in one hand, the knife in the other, he goes up stairs, he listens; first at the door of his daughter on the right, then at the door of the soldier on the left. All is still. Then he places the light on the floor; he enters the chamber on the left; he is gone a moment; silence! there is a faint groan. He comes forth again, rushes down the stairs, and stands there before the fire, with the bloody knife in his hands.

"Look," he shrieks, as he scatters the red drops over his comrades faces, over the hearth, into the fire. "Look, it is his blood; the traitor Washington."

His comrades gather round him with yells of joy; already, in fancy, they count the gold which will be theirs for this deed, when lo, that stair door opens, and there, without a wound, stands George Washington, asking calmly for his horse.

"What!" shrieked the tory Manheim, "can neither steel, nor bullet harm you? Are you a living man? Is there no wound about your uniform?"

The apparition drives him mad.

He starts forward, he places his hands tremblingly upon the arms, the breast of Washington. Then he looks at the bloody knife, still clasped in his right hand, and stands there quivering as with a death spasm.

While Washington looks on in silent wonder, the door is flung open, the bold troopers from Valley Forge thronged the room, with the gallant form and bronzed visage of Captain Williams in their midst.

At this moment the clock in the room struck twelve.

Then a horrid thought crashed like a thunderbolt upon the brain of the tory Manheim. He seizes the light—rushes to the room of his daughter on the right. Some one had just risen from the bed—the chamber was vacant. Then towards the room on the left, with steps of leaden heaviness. Look! now the knife quivers in his hand. He pauses at the door; he listens. His blood curdles in his veins. Gathering courage he pushes open the door. Towards the bed, through whose curtains he struck so blindly a moment ago. Again he pauses—not a sound—stillness more terrible than the grave. He flings aside the curtain.

There, in the full light of the lamp, her young form, but half covered, bathed in her own blood, there lay his daughter Mary.

And, do not look upon the face of her father, as he starts silently back, frozen to stone; but in this pause of horror, listen to the mystery of this deed.

After the father had gone down stairs, an hour ago, Mary silently stole from the chamber on the right, her soul shaken by a thousand fears. She opened the door on the left, and beheld Washington sitting by a table, on which were spread a chart and a Bible. Then, though her existence was in the act, she asked him, in a tone of calm politeness, to enter the room on the right. Mary entered the chamber which he left.

Can you imagine the agony of that girl's soul, as lying on the bed intended for the death couch of Washington, she silently awaited the knife, although that knife might be clenched in a father's hand.

And now that father, frozen to stone, stood there, holding the light in one hand, the other still clenching the red knife.

There lay his child, the blood streaming from that wound in her arm, her eyes covered with a glassy film.

"Mary!" shrieked the guilty father—for robber and tory as he was he called to her, but that was all he could say.

Suddenly she seemed to wake from that stupor. She sat up in the bed with glassy eyes. The strong hand of death was on her. As she sat there, erect and ghastly, the room was thronged with soldiers.—Her lover rushed forward and called her by name. No answer. Called again—spoke to her in that familiar tone of olden time; still no answer. She knew him not.

Yes it was true—the strong hand of death was upon her.

"Has he escaped?" she said, in that husky voice.

"Yes!" shrieked the father. "Live Mary, only live, and to-morrow I will join the camp at Valley Forge."

Then that girl, that hero-woman—dying as she was, not so much from the wound in her arm, as from the agony which had broken the last chord of life, spread forth her arms as though she beheld a form floating there above the bed, beckoning her away.

"Mother!" she whispered, while there grouped the soldiers—there, with a speechless agony on his brow, stood the lover—there, hiding his face with one hand, while the other grasped the light, crouched the father—the light flashing over the dark bed, with the form in its centre—"Mother thank God! For my life I have saved him——"

Look, even as starting on that bloody couch there, she speaks the half-formed word, her arms stiffen, her eyes wide open, set in death, glare in her father's face.

She is dead. From the room her spirit has gone home.

That half-formed word still quivering on the white lips of the hero-woman—that uttered in a husky whisper, choked by the death rattle—that word was—WASHINGTON!

☞ A Rev. gentleman, in the course of a lecture a short time ago, told the following story as a hit at those kind of Christians who are too indolent to pursue the duties required of them by their faith. He says that one pious gentleman composed a very fervent prayer to the Almighty, wrote it out legibly, and affixed the manuscript to his bed-post. Then, on cold nights, he merely pointed to the "document," and with the words—"Oh, Lord! those are my sentiments!"—blew out the light, and nestled amid the blankets

☞ "Papa, what does the editor lick the price current with?"
"Why, he don't do it, my child."
"Then he lies, pa."
"Hush, Tom! that is a very naughty word."
"Well, this ere paper says, "Price Current carefully corrected," and when I am corrected, I gets licked, don't I?"

A Scotch Answer.

The Rev. Ralph Erkshire, on a certain occasion, paid a visit to his venerable brother Ebenezer.

"O, man," said the latter, "but you come in a gude time. I have a diel of examination to-day, and ye maun tak' it, as I have matters o' impertance to settle at Peath."

"With all my heart," quoth Ralph.

"Noo," says Ebenezer, "ye'll find a' my folks easy to examine but ane, and him I reckon ye had better na meddle wi'.—He has on old fashioned Scotch way o' answering ane question by putting another, and may be he'll affront ye."

"Affront me," quoth the indignant theologian, "do ye think he can foil me wi' my ane tools?"

"Aweel," says his brother, "I'se gie ye fair warning, ye had better na ca' him up."

The recussant was one Walter Simpson, the vulcan of the parish. The gifted Ralph determined to silence him at once with a leading unanswerable question.—Accordingly, after putting a variety of simple preliminary interrogatories to the miner clodhoppers, he at once, with a loud voice cried out:

"Walter Simpson!"

"Here, sir!" says Walter, "are ye wanting me?"

"Attention, sir! Now, Walter, can you tell me how long Adam stood in a state of innocence?"

"Aye, till he got a wife," instantly cried the anvil hammerer; but can you tell me how long he stood after?"

"Sit down, Walter," cried the discomfited Divine.

DEPRIVED OF THE GOSPEL BY FOXES.—That was a novel but not so bad an argument which the mountain member urged in the Kentucky Legislature.

A few years ago, a bill proposing a premium on fox scalps was under discussion. It had been somewhat roughly handled in debate by members from the more populous regions, where foxes were scarce, and Mr. L——, from one of the mountain counties rose to reply. I give only his peroration:

"And are we, Mr. Speaker—we of the mountain regions—not only to witness the annual destruction of our crops, but actually to be deprived by these varmints of the consolation of religion?"

This woke the House up, and set it agape for an explanation. He continued:

"You know, Mr. Speaker, that we live in a rough country; that your fancy churches—your Presbyterians and Episcopalians—never send preachers among us. We depend for the Gospel upon the circuit-riders of the Methodist church; and, sir, everybody knows that they cannot be induced to travel where there are no chickens, and that chickens cannot be raised where foxes abound!"

The argument was unanswerable, and the bill became a law.

☞ When young Hodge first came up to town, his father told him it would be polite, when being helped at dinner, to say to the host, "Half that if you please." It so happened that, at the first dinner to which he was invited, a suckling pig was one of the dishes. The host pointing with his knife to the young porker, asked, "Well Mr. Hodge, will you have this, our favorite dish, or a hunch of mutton?"—Upon which recollecting his lesson, he replied "Half of that if you please," to the consternation of all present.

☞ Dean Swift, in traveling once, called at a house. The lady of the mansion, rejoiced to have so great a guest, with much eagerness and flippancy asked him what he would have for dinner. "Will you have an apple pie, or a gooseberry pie, sir, or a cherry pie, or a plum pie, or pigeon pie?" "Any pie, madam, but a magpie," replied the Dean in his usual dry, sarcastic manner.

☞ At a late trial the defendant, who was not familiar with the number of words employed to make a trifling offence, after listening awhile to the reading of the indictment, jumped up and said:

"Them ere allegations is false, and that ere alligator knows it."

"Go your ways, poor devils; I have done you mischief enough already."

St. Louis Breach of Promise Case.

Some six month since, a lady named Effie Carstang, of St. Louis, brought an action for breach of promise against Mr. Shaw, a rich gentleman of that place, and the jury awarded her a verdict of $100,000. Mr. Shaw's counsel immediately moved for a new trial, for the reason that he had not time to summon witnesses and prove many things which had a bearing upon the case and which would give it a different aspect. The motion was granted, and the second trial, which lasted some three weeks, and has just been concluded, has been lost by Miss Effie, but what is far worse, she has lost her character also. Without character or case, she is now cast off by the world, with only a desperate chance of a new trial, which has been asked by her counsel, or of a reversal of the late proceedings before a higher Court. In fixing the amount of damages to her damaged heart, Miss Carstang revealed a mercenary motive, and this alone hurt her case. It showed that she wanted Mr. Shaw's money more than his hand and heart. When such an extravagant valuation was put upon his hand, it is no wonder that Mr. Shaw resolved to resist to the uppermost. He ransacked the country for testimony concerning Miss Carstang, and his witnesses utterly broke her down. He spent money liberally to attain his end. It is stated that a single deposition taken in New York cost him $525, without counting the services of lawyers, constables and drummers of witnesses. He also paid the expenses of one witness from Charleston to St. Louis, her support since the 9th of January, and expenses back to Charleston, for the sake of her testimony. The cost of witnesses, the fees of counsel and other expenses will probably almost equal the sum claimed in damage, nevertheless those who have read the protracted proceedings will feel persuaded that the money has been spent on the side of right.

While we condemn most heartily the baseness of a man who will pledge his heart and hand to a woman whose affections he has won, and afterwards desert her, and believe he should be made to suffer for it, we have always questioned whether the deserted gained anything by a resort to law. Her character must suffer, and money will not pay for loss of character. If her virtue is not impeached, she exhibits a mercenary spirit, in the assessment of damages, which is anything but creditable. A term of imprisonment would be more appropriate, and equally healing to a truly broken heart.

POCKET-PICKING BY WHOLESALE.—A gang of pick-pockets made a descent upon Lancaster city, Pa., last week, and succeeded in making the following robberies:—David Landis lost $901; Isaac Miller, $1,150; James Passmore, $1,000;—Mr. Denlinger, $2,100. Notes and other valuable papers, amounting to some $15,000, were also stolen. An Englishman, about forty years of age, giving the name of John R. Froderberry, was arrested on suspicion of being one of the thieves.

☞ The editors of the Centre Democrat and Democratic Watchman, Bellefonte, are having a pretty high time of it at present, calling each other ugly names and insinuating naughty things. "Go in," Bill, "hit him again," Col.; if it be not death to either of you, it will be sport to your readers. Nothing like such controversies to bring out men's characters.

☞ In May the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church for the North will be held in Buffalo. It will be one of the most important conventions ever held by this large body of Christians.—Slavery in the church and lay representation in the conference will be the topics.

Veto Message.

Governor Packer has vetoed the bill giving Justices of the Peace power, with a jury of six, to hear and determine charges for crimes of a certain character, within the counties of Erie, Crawford, Bradford, Susquehanna, Tioga, Juniata, Luzerne, Lawrence, Potter, Mifflin and Warren, for reasons which we think are good and sufficient. The bill was intended to lessen the expenses in criminal proceedings, but the fact that it allows bills of exeptions to be filed to test the legality of the proceedings before the Court of Quarter Sessions of the proper county, entirely destroys the design, as there are very few, who, if the decisions of the Justice and his jury was adverse to them, would not file bills of exceptions, under the belief that they could gain their cases in Court. We give the last two parngraphs, which contain all that is important:—

"The judicial system of Pennsylvania is greatly to be commended for its simplicity, its uniformity, and the promptness with which it insures the administration of justice, without great or unnecessary expense to the public or to the parties litigant. To change it in any considerable degree, or to change it for particular counties, is surely not the part of wisdom. Can any reason be given why Justices of the Peace in the counties named in this bill should have the power, by the consent of the defendant, to summon a jury in every case of assault and battery, and to proceed to a formal trial and sentence, if a conviction takes place; while in the other counties in the Commonwealth, the Justices can only act as committing magistrates? Justices of the Peace are chosen under the constitution of this State with a view to the exercise of the limited jurisdiction, civil and criminal, given to them by the laws of the State, which have been chiefly in force for the last half century; and it is not to be presumed that they should be familiar with the forms of issuing venires, impannelling juries, making up and certifying bills of exceptions, and other forms incident to the proceedings of courts of more extensive jurisdiction; and any attempt to require the performance of such duties at their hands, would, in my judgment, in the end, produce greater uncertainty, longer delay, and more expense, than is incident to the present system.

Apart from the local character of this bill, and its innovation upon the well settled practice of the State, there are other objections arising from its peculiar provisions. Some of the offences which it names as crimes are only trespasses under the general law of the State, while the maximum punishment for the offence of "poisoning killing, maiming wounding, or cruelling beating any animal," is greatly below that fixed for the punishment of a similar offence by the existing criminal law. Special legislation for particular counties, upon subjects not in their nature local, is a most pernicious system, and ought to be entirely abandoned.

For the reasons thus briefly stated, I am compelled, by a sense of duty, to return this bill without my approval, for reconsideration.

WM. F. PACKER."

PRETTY STEEP.—A number of the Attorneys of Cambria County, recently met at the office of one of their number, in Ebensburg, and passed a series of resolutions which are calling down upon them the ridicule of the press and their professional brethren everywhere. The resolutions are to the effect that they will not take charge of any suit or proceeding in law without the express understanding that they are to have no colleagues in the same who resides outside of Cambria county, and that in cases now before the Court, in which counsel residing outside of the county are concerned, the relation shall remain, but in all such cases, where one of the Cambria lawyers is earliest on the record, he shall control the trial and argument of the case. As our cotemporary of the Tyrone Star remarks, there is a pretty smart sprinkling of Know-Nothingism about this. The Cambria Attorneys are either afraid of the Attorneys of other counties, or they possess a selfish spirit, which covets the pittance they receive for their services. The first is humiliating, the second anything but commendable. It may be only a little farce they are playing for the amusement of their brethfen.

HARRISBURG MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The first election in the City of Harrisburg came off on Friday last, and resulted in the success of the Democratic candidates for Mayor and Treasurer. Six members of each party have been elected to the Common Council, and two are a tie. Lots will be drawn to-morrow, at the first meeting of the Council, and the successful candidate will give his party a majority in the board. The Harrisburg Telegraph in noticing the election, animadverts pretty severely upon some of the P. R. R. officers about the city.

☞ The chicken fight which we noticed last week, as on the tapis between some sporting gentlemen of Pittsburgh and Columbus, Ohio, has came to naught by the backing out of the Buckeye gentry, when they got a sight of the Pittsburgh chickens, and the forfeit of $100 which had been previously staked to bind the match. Much indignation was felt in consequence, as the Pittsburghers are losers by the transaction—the forfeit not being sufficient to cover their expenses.

☞ A telegram from Washington says that the people of Pennsylvania may satisfy themselves that before the adjournof Congress there will be a tariff law passed, with increased rates of protection.—Hope it may prove true.

Borrowing Blood.

We were of opinion, that everything that could be had been borrowed and loaned, from good sermons down to editors' exchanges, or ample fortunes down to a row of pins, but it appears from a medical report just published, that even blood may be borrowed and loaned. A successful case of transfusion of blood into the veins of a woman was performed lately in Kilmarnock, Ayrshire, Scotland. The woman, though in the prime of life, had become so weak from loss of blood that pulsation was at times imperceptible. The blood of a friend was injected into the vein in one of her arms, and the most cheering results were immediately manifested. She continued to improve rapidly, and at last accounts was considered out of danger.—The Home Journal, in noticing this affair, wonders whether "moral responsibility" goes with the blood, or, which of the two persons would be liable for acts committed when that same "blood is up."—This would furnish a nice little question for lawyers.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.—Notwithstanding the moral portion of every community deprecated the international prize fight which was to have come off on the 13th or 16th inst., the announcement of the result is looked for with much interest by all; and there is a feeling of national pride, which, if it be not expressed, nevertheless leads every American to hope that the representative of this country may prove the champion. Active efforts were being made by the English police to prevent the fight, and for the sake of humanity it is to be hoped they were successful. If they were not, and the fight came off at the time announced, we expect to have the result previous to our next week's issue.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for May, has been received, Although we have taken but a hasty glance at its contents, we do not hesitate to say that it will make the heart of every lady bound when she receives it. The engravings are superb and the fashion plates so numerous and pretty that the ladies will be undecided which to choose. Every number adds to Godey's reputation as a caterer for the ladies. We have already ordered the Book for a number of the ladies of our advance paying subscribers, and we would take pleasure in ordering it for the wife, sister, or cousin of every subscriber on our books. We furnish the Book at $2,00 per annum—regular price $3.

THE PRYOR AND POTTER DIFFICULTY.—The anticipated duel between Pryor, of Virginia, and Potter, of Wisconsin, which has afforded a topic for considerable conversation and speculation for some time past, has been quashed for the present by the arrest and binding over of Potter, in the sum of $5,000 to keep the peace, and especially not to fight a duel. The officers are in search of Mr. Pryor, who will be required to give a similar bond.

ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC IN EIGHT DAYS.—Commencing yesterday, the distance between the Atlantic and the Pacific will be lessened to little more than a week. Telegrams can be sent over the wires to St. Joseph, on the Missouri river, from whence they will be conveyed by a pony express to the telegraph line at Placerville which will transmit them at once to Sacramento and San Francisco. The distance run by express will be gradually lessened at both sides, and if the appropriation sought by the American Telegraph Company be granted by Congress we shall shortly be able to communicate with San Francisco in the course of a few hours.—Thus science is gradually annihilating space and beating down the barriers that separate the interests of communities. The next express will not leave St. Joseph till Friday, the 13th day of April, after which it will start regularly every week. Time to Fort Kearney, 34 hours; Great Salt Lake, 126 hours; Carson City 188 hours; Placerville, 226 hours; Sacramento City, 234 hours; San Francisco, 240 hours. Dispatches will be telegraphed from the nearest telegraph station, which will be reached in about 200 hours. Dispatches will go from any point East to any place in California in about 205 hours.—Dispatches are already going for this route.

SNOW IN GERMANY.—A letter from Prussia says the fall of snow this winter exceeds anything on record. By the latest accounts from the Giants' Mountains, we hear that the snow drift had continued for three weeks almost without intermission, and the villages were completely snowed up, so that the inhabitants were hardly able to keep a window at the top of their houses open to admit a little daylight. The cattle suffer greatly from the heat in the stables, occasioned by the masses of snow resting on the roofs and excluding every breath of air, and it is feared that an epidemic will break out among them in consequence.

REPAIRED.—Mrs. R. A. Brewster, of Middlebury, obtained a divorce from her husband, Owen Brewster, at the term just closed of our Circuit Court. But true love, they say, never dies—they met again—confessed their sins and mutually forgave—kissed and made up, and on Friday were once more made one flesh. The happy pair are now enjoying their second honeymoon, and declare that it is about as good as the first. We hope that they are now welded so strong that neither powers nor principalities, kingdoms nor courts, will ever again be able to separate them.—[Elkhart (Ind.) Times.

☞ The Pennsylvania Railroad has 46 iron bridges including its branches. Their united length is 5,117 feet—one mile—less 183 feet. Number of wooden bridges, 74—their united length is 14,584 feet—nearly 3 miles. The bridge at Conemaugh is 72 feet high—the one over the Conemaugh 70.

THE CALIFORNIA MENAGERIE.—Old Adams, the great California hunter, with one hundred and fifty living animals of his own capturing, including seventeen dancing and performing bears, has arrived from San Francisco, on board the ship Golden Fleece. There are nineteen cages in all, varying in size—mostly ten feet long, four feet wide, and four feet high. Sampson, Lady Washington, and Fremont, being the largest of the Bruin family, occupy separate cages; all the others, except the buffalo and elk, having two, and some three, of the large animals. Beside the seventeen performing bears, embracing ten different kinds, there are two California lions, two do. tigers, two do. cougars, two lynxes, seven copotes, one white wolf, one anteater, one sea lion, one sea leopard, two silver gray foxes, one full-grown buffalo, two elk, two wild mountain goats, seventeen snakes, two large California condors, two do. vultures, five do. moon-face owls, three double-eared do., two Australian ostriches (seven feet hight), two white pelicans, two gray do., two large golden eagles (very rare and beautiful) two black Lower California eagles, two California American bald eagles, and a great variety of other birds and animals. It is understood that Mr. P. T. Barnum has purchased an undivided half of this novel exhibition at a large figure, and that, after a short stay in New-York, they will visit other cities, and also be exhibited through the country.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ Some of the Catholics of Cincinnati are at variance with the Archbishop. They had made arrangements to celebrate St. Patrick's Day by a ball. The Archbishop forbid the ball, as being a violation to the rule of Lent, but it was given and was largely attended.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.—We submit the following to sufferers without comment:

Messrs. Benj. Page, jr., & Co., Pittsburg, Pa.: I have been afflicted with the Chronic Rheumatism, unable to walk for six years, and have used all the external and internal remedies, both from Doctors and Quacks; also all the patent medicines recommended for that disease; also spent six months at the Hot Springs in Arkansas, all to no purpose. As the old saying is that drowning men catch at straws, I was recommended to try your Bitters, and must confess that it is the only remedy which has given me relief. I am now on my third bottle. I am so much better, although not able to walk, I was able to attend church last Sunday, for the first time in six years. My general health is also much improved. My appetite never was better. My object in writing you (as my recourses are nearly exhausted by my long confinement) is to know if I can obtain it for less than one dollar per bottle, which price I have to pay for it here. I consider Boerhave's Holland Bitters the most valuable remedy for my complaint that was ever offered to the public.

Yours, truly, HENRY POWERS.

CROUP.

Children are often seized very suddenly with this disease, which, if not quickly relieved, proves fatal. It generally attacks children in the night, after having been much exposed to damp, cold winds through the day. Damp houses, wet feet, thin shoes, wet clothes, or anything that obstructs perspiration, may occasion Croup. Mothers! your children are liable to be taken with this dread complaint at a time when you least expect it; but it is not always a doctor can be called or a remedy found, and for this reason we would advise you, and without a moment's delay, to buy a bottle of Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. It will cure every case of Croup, if taken in time; and also all complaints attending teething, Convulsions, Coughs, Colds, etc. It is sold by all respectable druggists. Messrs. CHURCH & DUPONT, New York, are the proprietors, and also sole agents for "Dr. BROSSON'S BLOOD FOOD," which for Consumptive and Chronic diseases is a sure remedy. ☞ The great drawback to persons emigrating to the extreme south and western country, is the fear they have of the Fever and Ague—the most direful of all diseases.—Every day we hear of persons attacked by this disease and made helpless in a short time, without any means of affording relief. The "Bitters," prepared after a long experience and deep study, have received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes, from every part of our country. REASON AND COMMON SENSE.

Our readers may remember we have on several occasions spoken in very eulogistic terms of a preparation which Dr. SETH S. HANCE, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., has discovered for the cure of Epileptic Fits. Now, in doing so, we have been actuated by the very best motives, viz:—the alleviation of human suffering. From circumstances which have lately come to our knowledge, we fear there is a certain class of persons who are not disposed to try this remedy in a common sense manner. We allude to the fact of selecting a particular case in a town where perhaps there are six or eight cases, and trying it one case. Now, perhaps the case selected might be the only one of the whole number that it would not cure. This is neither doing themselves nor the medicine justice. If a dozen persons were stricken down with cholera in one town or neighborhood, would they all send for a physician, or would only one employ him, and wait and see if he cured the first patient? That plan of procedure would be most absurd. So in the case of Dr. Hance's remedy, every one who has Fits should try it for a reasonable length of time. It will not cure in a day or week; nothing worth doing can be accomplished at once. What is easily done is as easily undone.—The growth of time is enduring. From the most respectable testimony we have examined, we feel assured that by a proper perseverance in this remedy, nine cases of Epilepsy out of ten may be cured. The Pills are sent by mail free of postage to any part of the world. Price—one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24. You will find the address as above.

A FAMILY NECESSITY.

The following statement speaks for itself:—(Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHARLES FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is a truly wonderful article. It will cure any case of swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses, it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has saved a valuable horse. It cures Galds, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable globe.

TOOTHACHE.

This disease can be cured by Dr. Keyser's Toothache Remedy, prepared by him in Pittsburg, Pa., which is put up in bottles and sold at 25 cents each. LOCAL ITEMS.

APRIL.—Sunshine and showers, smiles and tears, characterize this fickle, yet charming season. Two weeks since, after the parching dust-laden winds of March, we had mild, grateful, balmy days, full of May sunshine and promise of early flowers, that brought out the stay-at-home folks in spite of themselves. But last week the scene changed to November in everything but temperature, and even a little of that. This, however, can not last long, and the warm showers and fogs, with now and then a streak of sunshine, will soon bring out the early spring vegetables, and before we know it will be working wonders in the orchards—the apple and peach trees will put forth their pink blossoms, and the cherry trees burst into snow flakes; already sweet

"Saffodile,
That comes before the swallow dares, and take
The winds of March with beauty; and violets dim,
But sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes,
Or Cythera's breath," are blowing over the sunny borders of the garden, the roses are bursting into leaf, lillies have put forth their tender green leaves, the maples are purpling with coming glories and the evergreens (those old winter standbys) are changing their russet, weather-worn hues for brighter colors, under the warm soft April rains. Already the little wrens are chirping around their old boxes, or peering into the rugged bark for the quickening ova of the last years insects; the busy swallows are looking out a safe cloister for their summer homes, and the noisy martins have returned to wake us up at dawn of day. The birds and blossoms, leaves and fruits of glorious summer will soon all be with us again.

LADIES MITE SOCIETY.—The ladies connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church, in this place, have organized a "Mite Society" for the purpose of raising funds to make improvements in and about the church and parsonage. The terms of membership are 25 cts. initiation fee and three cents weekly as dues. This may appear a slow way to raise money, but it is astonishing how fast these mites count up.—There should be at least 100 members to this society, which would, in one year, pay into the treasury the snug little sum of $181, enough to make a very decided improvement on the present appearance of the church, if judiciously expended. We had almost forgotten to say that gentlemen are admitted into the society on the same terms as the ladies.

The ladies connected with the Presbyterian Church, have a society of the same kind for the purpose of providing clothing, &c., for missionaries. This is a laudable work and deserves the encouragement of every member. When the ladies determine to do a thing they generally do it right, and we hope those who are enlisted in the above enterprises may be abundantly rewarded.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A friend writing to us from Sabbath Rest, dated April 16th, gives the following particulars of an accident at Mr. Martin Bell's Furnace:—

"A terrible accident occurred here yesterday. A young man named John Bush, while in the act of greasing the engine, which blows the Furnace, had his right arm torn off and terribly mangled, by being caught between the crank of the fly wheel and the pitman, making it necessary to amputate the arm near the shoulder, which was done by Dr. Christy, of Altoona, Dr. Clark, of Bell's Mills, and Dr. Schlemm, of Davidsburg. The patient is now said to be doing well, and his friends entertain the hope that he will speedily recover."

AT HOME AGAIN.—We notice our popular Senator, Col. L. W. Hall, and our friend, Geo. W. Patton, Esq., again upon our streets, their duties at Harrisburg having closed on the 3d inst. Few men elected to the Senate of this State have gained for themselves a wider reputation, at the first session of their term, than Col. Hall. He was always in his seat and always ready to take part in the discussions on all bills which came before that body. Mr. Patton made a faithful clerk and won the good opinion of all those with whom he was brought in connection. Hope he may be re-elected next winter, if he desires the position.

DUN.—Almost every person has had occasion to use the word "dun," and all know what it means, as now rendered, yet few we venture to say, know its origin. It owes its paternity, it is said, to one Joe Dun, a famous bailiff of Lincoln, England, in the time of Henry VII. He was so extremely shrewd in the management of his rough business, and so dexterous in the collection of dues, that his name became proverbial; and whenever a man refused to pay his debts, it grew into a prevalent custom to say, "Why don't you DUN him?"

HOW TO CLEAN CHIMNEYS.—An Irishman out west, has invented a patent for cleaning chimneys which knocks all other patents far "into the shade." He takes a goose and ties its legs and lets it down the chimney. The fluttering of the bird of course completely cleans the soot out of the chimney. So much for inventive genius.

EXTRACT FROM THE MINUTES.—At a meeting of the surviving soldiers of the late war with Mexico, (in attendance at the funeral of C. W. Horrell, a deceased soldier of said war,) held at the "Exchange Hotel," Newry, Blair county, Pa., on Friday afternoon, the 13th inst., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased God in his Providence to remove from our midst our worthy companion in arms, in the late war with Mexico, Charles Willard Horrel, late a private in Company, 1 (Capt. Lœser,) 2d Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in his death we have lost a gallant soldier and companion.

Resolved, That we, his companions in arms, will cherish his memory, and hereby offer our condolence to the family and relatives of the deceased.

Resolved, That the county papers be requested to publish the above, and a copy be transmitted to the friends and relatives of the deceased.

It was also resolved that the undersigned, surviving soldiers of the late war with Mexico, do now organize ourselves into an association, for the purpose of performing military honors at the funerals of deceased soldiers of said war:

Resolved, That the uniform of the association shall be the same as that worn by the "Scott Legion of Philadelphia."

Resolved, That we hereby return our thanks to the Hollidaysburg Fencibles, Altoona Guards, and Juniata Rifles, for their presence and escort at the funeral of our late comrade.

Resolved, That all the surviving soldiers resident within a reasonable distance, are requested to join our organization, and report themselves immediately by letter to the Secretary, giving name, residence, and the corps in which they served.

Resolved, That when we do adjourn it shall be to meet at the house of Capt. Mennier, (Logan House,) Hollidaysburg, on the fourth day of July next, at 2 o'clock P. M.

TRY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—The coughing season will soon begin, and with it the deep seated coughs and colds which lay the foundation of permanent and oftentimes fatal lung diseases. The true course to pursue for any one afflicted with a cough or cold is to seek a remedy in the early stage of these diseases; for the reason, that they are much more easily cured in the beginning than after they have seized some vital part of the constitution. The remedy that is most sure to give immediate relief is Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Cough Syrup, a medicine prepared by him with great care, and with a certain evidence that it will save hundreds of persons from falling into a permanent lung difficulty if applied to in time. You can buy it in bottles, at fifty cents and one dollar, at G. W. Kessler's.

☞ Here is a paragraph about "Early Tomatoes" which looks as if it might be worth trying. It is said to be "certain sure."

"About the middle of April, take a few large turnips and cut out the hearts of them to form a sort of cup. Fill the cavities with earth, and plant two or three tomato seeds in each; when the seeds have well sprouted, pull up all but the healthiest plant in each turnip, and let those that remain stand where they will have the benefit of the sun; the plant will grow very thriftily—the decaying turnips furnishing its food. When the weather becomes sufficiently warm, set the turnips in a well prepared soil, not less than three feet apart, make lath frames to keep the vines from the ground, and keep the soil well hilled up around them and you will have a crop that will astonish the natives. The advantage consists in getting the plants started early without setting them back by transplanting.

A POEM.—The name of the author of the following is not given, lest he should be overwhelmed with letters from the leading literary journals, petitioning him to contribute "only" for a certain paper. Without further comment, we give it:—

A 12 LINE CAD 2 SPRING.

The lilu birds sit on a swinging limb
Singin—jorfully singin—
All natur jines in the corus lond
To the Spring which are a springin.
The grass are growin, the flours are blowin,
The peach tree buds is swelling big,
The ladies is dressin in their finest satin,
And the trees is puttin on their summerin.
How i wish I was a singin bard
On a grate big blu ja limb;
I'd sing the praises (in the sweetest layses)
Of Spring, if I busted with the vim.
THE END.

WILL RETIRE.—Our friend Jolly, of the Tyrone Star, gave notice in the last number of his paper that the issue of this week would be the last under his proprietorship, and intimated that it would go into the hands of gentlemen who will make it an ultra-Republican paper.—Well, that is certainly a changeable Star, almost as changeable as the "little joker" in the thimble rig game. We wish Jolly success in collecting his outstanding accounts.

LOOK OUT FOR HIM!—The public are cautioned against a Jeremy Diddler calling himself "Judge Underwood," and just now circulating about the country collecting money for the "Ladies Mount Vernon Association." He is said to have succeeded remarkably well in Missouri and Illinois. He is a swindler. Look out for all "titled beggars."

DISCOVERED.—We learn that the unnatural mother of the child found in Mr. Loudon's field, a short time since, has been discovered, but made tracks before she was arrested. We do not know whether an effort was made, or is now making, to bring her to justice, but presume that, like the rest, she will be permitted to escape the consequences due her murderous act.

EX-REV. KEISEY.—The Greensburg Democrat says that the whereabouts of the Ex-Rev. Keisey, who eloped from that place in company with a woman named Minnie Lusk, alias Sarver, last October, have at last been discoverod. Mrs. Keisey has received a letter from a gentleman in Canada, informing her that Keisey is teaching school in Toronto, Canada West.

A CANDIDATE.—Our legal cotemporary, of the Tyrone Star, announces himself as a candidate for the office of District Attorney, subject to the decision of the County Convention of the People's party.

SHERIFF'S SALES.—Sheriff Funk will sell the following properties at the approaching Court, commencing on Monday, 23d inst.:—

All the right, title and interest of Sarah Metz, in and to a parcel of land in Logan township, containing fifteen acres, having thereon erected a small log dwelling house.

The right, title and interest of John Moran in and to a half lot of ground and a two story brick house, situate on Mulberry street, Hollidaysburg.

A two story brick dwelling house and the lot of ground appurtenant thereto, situate in Tyrone Borough—to be sold as the property of Wm. Davidson.

The right, title and interest of Samuel Royer, dec'd, in and to 230 acres of land, situate in Allegheny township, having thereon erected a large three story brick building, known as the "Poor House."

The right, title and interest of Samuel Calvin in and to a tract of land, situate in Allegheny township, and containing 430 acres and allowance.

The right, title and interest of Anna Westbrook to a lot of ground in Williamsburg, and having thereon erected a two story plastered dwelling house and a small frame stable.

The right, title and interest of Michael Cassiday in and to a tract of land in Logan township, containing 105 acres—a tract of land in Logan township containing 450 acres—and a tract of land in Logan township containing 480 acres.

The right, title and interest of David Wertz, to a tract of land, containing 172 acres, and improvements, situate in Frankstown township.

The right, title and interest of Martin Duffy, in and to a lot of ground situate in Hollidaysburg, having thereon erected a two story frame dwelling house.

A lot of ground and appurtenances, situate on Blair street, Hollidaysburg—sold as the property of Wm. B. and Mary Ann Smith.

THANKS.—On Monday evening last the members of the Altoona Brass Band were the recipients of two large and handsome cakes, presents from a couple of young ladies in this place.—After discussing the cakes the following resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered to be published:

Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the Altoona Brass Band are hereby tendered to the young ladies who have so kindly contributed to their enjoyment this evening, by the presentation of two large and excellent cakes, and we assure them that this token of their good will will ever be remembered by those upon whom it was conferred.

W. W. SMITH, Sec'y.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB.—The Democracy of this place met at Shultz's Hall on Saturday evening last, and organized a Democratic Club for the coming campaign. Col. John Woods was chosen permanent President by acclamation. Speeches were delivered by Messrs. Woods, Turner, Stewart, and Leonard. The club will meet every Saturday evening.

ARREST.—The Tyrone Star says a man named Samuel P. Smith, for a long time a resident of Tyrone, was arrested in that place, on Friday evening, 6th inst., on a warrant from Northumberland county, charging him with forgery.—He was taken to Milton in custody of an officer.

Notice.—The subscribers to the Capital Stock of the Altoona Gas and Water Company are hereby notified that if the full amount of their subscription is not paid on or before the 16th day of May next, Section 8th of the Act of Assembly for the incorporation of Gas and Water Companies will be strictly enforced:—

"SECTION 8. That if the stockholder, whether an original subscriber or assignee, after twenty day's notice of the time and place appointed for the payment of any instalment or proportion of the capital stock, shall neglect to pay the same at the place appointed, for the space of thirty days after the time appointed for payment thereof, such stockholder shall, in addition to the instalment so called for, pay at the rate of one per centum per month for every delay of such payment, and if the same and additional penalty shall become, equal to the sum before paid on account of such share, the same may be forfeited by and to the said company, and may be sold by them at public sale for such price as may be obtained therefor, or in default of payment of any stockholders of such instalments as aforesaid for the space of sixty days after the time appointed as aforesaid, the president and managers may at their election cause suit to be brought in the same manner as debts of a like amount are now recoverable, for the recovery of the same, together with the penalties aforesaid."

BENJ. F. ROSE, Sec'y.

I have understood from a reliable source, that interested parties have reported that I had moved my GAS FITTING AND PLUMBING establishment from Altoona. I would respectfully inform the citizens of Altoona that it is not, nor has it ever been my intention to remove. Persons desiring work done in a good and substantial manner, and at lowest prices, can be accommodated by calling at my shop, 3 doors below the Post Office, or upon B. F. BOARDERS WANTED.—The proprietor of the large boarding house, on Emma street, formerly occupied by Messrs. Horrel & Smith, is prepared to accommodate a number of regular boarders if application be made soon.

INSANITY THE RESULT OF A JOKE.—There is now in a lunatic asylum at Hammersmith, says the London Court Circular, a lady of exquisite beauty, who was driven mad by being suddenly startled by her maid. The lady's name is H——, and she resided with her husband, Mr. H——, a wealthy sharebroker, at a splendid mansion in Cavendish square. One evening, about six weeks ago, she strolled in the dusk into her husband's library to procure a book.—The lady's maid saw her enter the apartment, and in a mere frolic concealed herself behind the curtains belonging to the window, until her mistress had placed her hand upon the work she came in search of, when she suddenly sprang upon her with a loud shout. The lady was so astounded by the shock, that she was struck almost senseless. Delirium ensued; confirmed madness followed, which has ever since continued without abatement, to a degree dangerous to all who come near her. Her propensities are fierce and vicious; she tries to bite at all who approach her, and it is more than probable she will never recover her reason.

MARRIED.

BŒRHAVE'S
HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND,
FEVER AND ACUE,
And the various affections consequent upon a disordered
STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Dependency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Its reputation at home produced its introduction here, the demand commencing with those of the Fatherland scattered over the face of this mighty country, many of whom brought with them and handed down the tradition of its value. It is now offered to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

READ CAREFULLY!

The Genuine highly concentrated Boerhave's Holland Bitters is put up in half-pint bottles only, and retailed at One Dollar per bottle, or six bottles for Five Dollars. The great demand for this truly celebrated Medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.

THE ONLY PREPARATION WORthy of UNIVERSAL CONFIDENCE AND PATRONAGE.

For Statesmen, Judges, Clergymen, Ladies and Gentlemen in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20th, 1859.

GENTLEMEN: Your note of the 15th inst., has been received saying that you heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting the certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair is auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head, to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatning to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very respectfully, BEN. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, New York.

My family are absent from the city, and I am no longer at No. 11 Carrol Place.

Stamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

TO PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC of its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to yours "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly, WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. Kenedy.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851. I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

Fever and Ague.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

☞ Sold by G W Kessler and A Roush, Altoona; G A Jacobs, J K Patton and W G Murray, Hollidaysburg; and S. Berlin Tyrone. [Aug 25. 1859-1y

Entirely New Goods.
R. A. O. KER

WOULD INFORM THE GOOD people of Altoona, the surrounding country, and the "rest of mankind," that he has just returned from the city with a large stock of NEW GOODS, which he offers at reasonable prices, at the stand formerly occupied by B. Kerr, and recently by W. O'Neal, on Main street. His stock is the only one in town which is

and he flatters himself that he has something to please the eye of of every lady, and suit the wants of every gentleman. He deems it unnecessary to enumerate all the articles on the shelves, (as to do so would require a whole newspaper,) but would say that he has everything in the line of which this meridian calls for, and all just suited to the season, together with a well selected assortment of House Furnishing Goods, such as Carpets, Window Blinds, Shades, &c., which will commend themselves.

FOR GENTLEMEN,

he has a great variety—from which they can not fail to make a satisfactory selection. He has also a tip-top assortment of GROCERIES as good, fresh and cheap as can be had this side of the place of growing or manufacture. Also, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, and everything necessary to complete a store in a thriving town like Altoona.

All he asks is that the people call and examine his stock, which he will at all times take pleasure in showing, and he feels confident that he can send them away rejoicing, if not in the purchase of just such an article as they wanted, at the remembrance of having looked upon the handsomest stock of Goods ever exhibited in the town.

It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with numerous Engravings.—All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. CONSUMPTION AND ASTHMA CURED.

DR. H. JAMES,

Discovered, while in the West Indies, a certain cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and General Debility. The remedy was discovered by him when his only child, a daughter, was given up to die. His child was cured, and is now alive and well. Desirous of benefitting his fellow mortals, he will send to those who wish it, the recipe containing full directions for making and successfully using this remedy, free, on receipt of their names with stamp for return postage. When received, take it to G. W. Kessler, Druggist, Altoona. There is not a single symptom of Consumption which it does not at once take hold of and dissipate. Night sweats, peevishness, irritation of the nerves, failure of memory, difficult expectoration, sharp pains in the lungs, sore throat, chilly sensations, nausea at the stomach, inaction of the bowels, wasting away of the muscles. Address O. P. BROWN & CO., 32 and 34 John St., New York.

DR. O. PHELPS BROWN'S
ACACIAN BALSAM
FOR THE PERMANENT
CURE OF CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS,
ASTHMA, COUGHS, COLDS,
GENERAL DEBILITY, &C.

THIS remedy is offered as affording a means of speedy cure for the large number that die annually in our land of that fell scourge, Consumption, to which, unfortunately, so many predisposing causes exist. Youth and age are alike subject to its ravages.

EVERY PERSON

can name one or more of his acquaintances who is subject to some form of lung or throat complaint, which, if not attended to in season, inevitably consigns the sufferer to a premature grave. To such, help is at hand if they will but avail themselves of it, and hope,—the harbinger of brighter days,—may be awakened without fear of chilling disappointment. Dr. O. Phelps Brown's ACACIAN BALSAM does just what is claimed for it, and may be relied upon by the sick as being the most successful in curing lung and throat disorders, of any remedy known at the present day. The many phases assumed by Consumption justifies the apprehension of those who have reason to fear its approach, either from constitutional or hereditary tendency.

While the discoverer of this remedy does not believe that people should be constantly dosing themselves with medicines

TO PREVENT SICKNESS,

there are many cases where disease is too long allowed to remain unchecked in the system; and a slight cough, regarded at first as simply an annoyance, ceases only with the life of the patient. An impure state of the blood, through debilitation of the lungs, fills the system with morbid humors, and pulsation becomes feeble or accelerated to a feverish intensity—the heart, liver, and kidneys, separately performing functions of vital necessity to our well-being, are impeded in their regular action—the digestive organs falter in their task, and refuse to perform the process of separating the nutritious elements from food, and the whole mental being is well-nigh ready to sink under the burden of life. The patient so afflicted, accounts his case a complication of disorders, and often refuses to resort to medication, from his thorough disbelief in any prospect of cure. To such of the ACACIAN BALSAM, as thoroughly worthy the confidence of all. Every symptom of Consumption is surely and permanently eradicated by its use. Its effects are none other but strengthening and renovating to the entire system. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and General Debility, are effectually cured by its use. Night-Sweats, Loss of Flesh, and Wasting away of the Muscles, Loss of Appetite, Soreness of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs, Liver Complaint, Palpitation of the Heart, Difficulty of Breathing—all these affections disappear in an incredibly short time after using Dr. O. Phelps Brown's Acacian Balsam.

It nourishes and strengthens the patient who is too much reduced to partake of ordinary food. It heals all internal sores, tubercles and inflammation. It strengthens, braces, and revitalizes the brain, and is without a rival as a tonic, supplying electricity or magnetic force to every part of the enfeebled and prostrate body. It needs no lengthy trial to convince any that the ACACIAN BALSAM is truly the greatest remedy of the day, as its beneficial qualities are fully apparent in eight-and-forty hours after trial.

Let the invalid, then, no longer delay, but make the trial, and the result will surely be of the most gratifying character.

The ACACIAN BALSAM is prepared with the greatest care, and the best materials. No pains or expense are spared to make it what it is—the best known remedy of the age. It may be taken by either sex, of all ages, and at all seasons, with perfect safety; and it is none the less powerful in conquering those diseases which sap the foundation and destroy the lives of so many in our midst. Every family should have it, and regard it as a household treasure.

MOTHERS

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First. It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them. Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chiefmerit over every other preparation, viz:—

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTEDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c., also, for softening the gums and relieving pains. For regulating the Bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For the CROUP, the most fatal and trying of all diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful antispasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to lose no time in procuring it. Lastly—It costs so much more than other preparations of the kind that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years practice—as a last resort conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of Physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over two thousand consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite or pain in the side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your Sleep is Broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are Depressed, or your Organs relaxed, you will find this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate and bring it into lively and healthy action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas and other like complaints.—Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength, to the body and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success. For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle. Sold by

CELEBRATED
TO THE PUBLIC.

AFTER A TRIAL of over TEN years in private practice, the subscriber is prepared to offer to the public a WORM SYRUP which has never failed to perform cures where others have been given in vain. It is beyond dispute the most pleasant and effectual preparation of the kind ever offered for sale.

It performs its cures safely, speedily, and effectually; injuring the nervous system in no wise—unlike, in this respect, to the Pink Root and Turpentine preparations—nor does it contain mercury in any shape or form; but is a purely vegetable production, and so harmless in its action that the most delicate infant may take it.

It is one of the best and most gentle purgatives that can be administered to children, in case, even, where no Worms exist, and is all that may be required, in nine cases out of ten, to restore the deranged condition of the digestive organs, so frequently met
